In Memory of Joseph C. Clancy

EARS IN THE TURRETS HEAR

*Ears in the turrets hear
Hands grumble on the door,
Eyes in the gables see
The fingers at the locks.
Shall I unbolt or stay Alone till the day I die
Unseen by stranger-eyes
In this white house?
Hands, hold you poison or grapes?*

*Beyond this island bound
By a thin sea of flesh
And a bone coast,
The land lies out of sound
And the hills out of mind.
No birds or flying fish
Disturbs this island's rest.*

*Ears in this island hear
The wind pass like a fire,
Eyes in this island see
Ships anchor off the bay.
Shall I run to the ships
With the wind in my hair,
Or stay till the day I die
And welcome no sailor?
Ships, hold you poison or grapes?*

*Hands grumble on the door,
Ships anchor off the bay,
Rain beats the sand and slates.
Shall I let in the stranger,
Shall I welcome the sailor,
Or stay till the day I die?*

*Hands of the stranger
And holds of the ship,
Hold you poison or grapes?*

EX-BASKETBALL PLAYER

Pearl Avenue runs past the high-school lot,
Bends with the trolley tracks, and stops, cut off
Before it has a chance to go two blocks,
At Colonel McComsky Plaza. Berth's Garage
Is on the corner facing west, and there,
Most days, you'll find Flick Webb, who helps Berth out.

Flick stands tall among the idiot pumps-
Five on a side, the old bubble-head style,
Their rubber elbows hanging loose and low.
One's nostrils are two S's, and his eyes
And E and O. And one is squat, without A head at all—more of a football type.

Once Flick played for the high-school team, the Wizards.
He was good: in fact, the best. In '46
He bucketed three hundred ninety points,
A county record still. The ball loved Flick.
I saw him rack up thirty-eight or forty
In one home game. His hands were like wild birds.

He never learned a trade, he just sells gas,
Checks oil, and changes flats. Once in a while,
As a gag, he dribbles an inner tube,
But most of us remember anyway.
His hands are fine and nervous on the lug wrench.
It makes no difference to the lug wrench, though.

Off work, he hangs around Mae's luncheonette.
Grease-gray and kind of coiled, he plays pinball,
Smokes thin cigars, and nurses lemon phosphates.
Flick seldom says a word to Mae, just nods
Beyond her face toward bright applauding tiers
Of Necco Wafers, Nibs, and Juju Beads.

John Updike

MNEMOSYNE

It's autumn in the country I remember.

*How warm a wind blew here about the ways!
And shadows on the hillside lay to slumber
During the long sunsweetened summer days.*

It's cold abroad the country I remember.

*The swallows veering skimmed the golden grain
At midday with a wing aslant and limber;
And yellow cattle browsed upon the plain.*

It's empty down the country I remember.

*I had a sister lovely in my sight:
Her hair was dark, her eyes were very sombre;
We sang together in the woods at night.*

It's lonely in the country I remember.

*The babble of our children fills my ears,
And on our hearth I stare the perished ember
To flames that show all starry thro' my tears.*

It's dark about the country I remember.

*There are mountains where I lived. The path
Is slushed with cattle-tracks and fallen timber,
The stumps are twisted by the tempests' wrath.*

*But that I knew these places are my own,
I'd ask how came such wretchedness to cumber
The earth, and I to people it alone.*

It rains across the country I remember.

SAM

Whem Sam goes back in memory,
 It is to where the sea
 Breaks on the shingle, emerald-green,
 In white foam, endlessly;
 He says—with small brown eye on mine—
 "I used to keep awake,
 And lean from my window in the moon,
 Watching those billows break.
 And half a million tiny hands,
 And eyes, like sparks of frost,
 Would dance and come tumbling into the moon,
 On every breaker tossed.
 And all across from start to star,
 I've seen the watery sea,
 With not a single ship in sight,
 Just ocean there, and me,
 And heard my father snore. And once,
 As sure as I'm alive,
 Out of those wallowing, moon-flecked waves
 I saw a mermaid dive;
 Head and shoulders above the wave,
 Plain as I now see you,
 Combing her hair, now back, now front,
 Her two eyes peeping through;
 Calling me, "Sam '—quietlike—' Sam!" ...
 But me ... I never went,
 Making believe I kind of thought
 'Twas someone else she meant ...
 Wonderful lovely there she sat,
 Singing the night away,
 All in the solitudinous sea
 Of that lonely bay.
 P'raps," and he'd smooth his hairless mouth,
 "P'raps, if 'twere now, my son,
 P'raps, if I heard a voice say, 'Sam!'
 Morning would find me gone."

MAIL AT YOUR NEW ADDRESS

I

Did your car get you to Florida?
I know you don't like me to say so but Mrs. Wilson says the same thing. Please tell me (collegt) if you are all there. I hope you do not sleep or do anything on the road.
In Georgia.

Your father
should see all the leaves.
Walter has not raked
a girlfriend up the street and wont rake anymore. Watch out or they'll have the same thing Mrs. Wilson says the friend stayed and look what happened at Cornell?

Even if you changed
college is no reason to come home.
But get a haircut. I know the dean doesn't like you to look like a gardener.

II
 There have been so many deaths
 due to carbon m. poisoning that this is just a note to suggest you leave a little air come into your room. Also

I hope you don't get involved with young men or older or made from popies (?) and Hippy's.
 I hope you are not letting the drugs get you. And don't get mixed up with drugs. It might spoil your change for getting the cert. you are working for.
 Remember, it is costing quite a lot.

Don't scold. I am afraid of your trips to and near Chicago.

Peter Klappert

MT. LYKAION

Alone on Lykaion since man hath been
 Stand on the height two columns, where at rest
 Two eagles hewn of gold sit looking East
 Forever; and the sun goes up between.
 Far down around the mountain's oval green
 An order keeps the falling stones abreast.
 Below within the chaos last and least
 A river like a curl of light is seen.
 Beyond the river lies the even sea,
 Beyond the sea another ghost of sky;
 O God, support the sickness of my eye
 Lest the far space and long antiquity
 Suck out my heart, and on this awful ground
 The great wind kill my little shell with sound.

Trumbull Stickney

DESTINY

*In our fury and muddle
We act like children, cut off,
Fled from ourselves,
Bound by silly shame.*

*The years clump past
In their agony, waiting.
Not a single path leads back
To the garden of our youth.*

ORIENTATION

Sometimes I wish that I were still just a paperboy back in Oklahoma City; where my problems were only thick papers, rain and cold weather, a few mean dogs, a couple of grouchy people, and porches I couldn't hit from the sidewalk.

Mason Williams

You are at peace with yourself when you are doing something and are not continually asking yourself why you are doing it.

Barbara Bowen

*... remember, my son,

SONG OF A MAN WHO HAS COME THROUGH

Not I, not I, but the wind that blows through me!
A fine wind is blowing the new direction of Time.
If only I let it bear me, carry me, if only it carry me!
If only I am sensitive, subtle, oh, delicate, a winged gift!
If only, most lovely of all, I yield myself and am borrowed
By the fine, fine wind that takes its course through the chaos of the world
Like a fine, an exquisite chisel, a wedge-blade inserted;
If only I am keen and hard like the sheer tip of a wedge
Driven by invisible blows,
The rock will split, we shall come at the wonder, we shall find the Hesperides.

Oh, for the wonder that bubbles into my soul,
I would be a good fountain, a good well-head,
Would blur no whisper, spoil no expression.

What is the knocking?
What is the knocking at the door in the night?
It is somebody wants to do us harm.

No, no, it is the three strange angels.
Admit them, admit them.

A man should be in the world as though he were not in it, so that it will be no worse because of his life. His obligation may not be to make "a better world," but the world certainly requires of him that he make it no worse. That, at least, was a man's moral circumstance before he began his ruinous attempt to "improve" on the creation; now, perhaps, he is under an obligation to leave it better than he found it, by undoing some of the effects of his meddling and restoring its old initiatives—by making his absence the model of his presence.

*I stood upon a high place,
 and saw, below, many devils
 running, leaping,
 and carousing in sin.
 One looked up, grinning,
 and said, "Comrade! Brother!"
 Stephen Crane*

I Went Out to the Sun

*I went out to the sun
where it burned over a desert willow and getting under the shade of the willow I said*

*It's very hot in this country
The sun said nothing so I said
The moon has been talking about you and he said*

*Well what is it this time
She says it's her own light
He threw his flames out so far they almost scorched the top of the willow*

*Well I said of course I don't know
The sun went on and the willow was glad
I found an arroyo and dug for water which I got muddy and then clear so I drank a lot
and washed the salt from my eyes
and taking off my shirt*

*hung it on the willow to dry and said
This land where whirlwinds
walking at noon in tall columns of dust
take stately turns about the desert is a very dry land*

*So I went to sleep under the willow tree.
When the moon came up it was cold
and reaching to the willow for my shirt
I said to the moon*

*You make it a pretty night
so she smiled
A night lizard rattled stems behind me
and the moon said*

*I see over the mountain
the sun is angry
Not able to see him I called and said
Why are you angry with the moon
since all at last must be lost to the great vacuity*

Faces seen once are seen

*To fade from around one feature,
Leaving a chin, a scar, an expression*

*Forever in the air beneath a streetlight,
Glancing in boredom from the window
Of a bus in a country town,
Showing teeth for a moment only,
All of which die out of mind, except One silver one.*

Faces seen once change always

*Into and out of each other:
An eye you saw in Toulon
Is gazing at you down a tin drainpipe
You played with as a dull child
In Robertstown, Georgia.*

James Dickey

FACES SEEN ONCE

THE CRADLE TRAP

*A bell and rattle,
a smell of roses,
a leather Bible,
and angry voices . . .*

*They say, I love you.
They shout, You must!
The light is telling terrible stories.*

*But night at the window
whispers, Never mind.
Be true, be true
to your own strange kind.*

AFTERNOON SLEEP

*I was descending from the mountains of sleep.
Asleep I had gazed east over a sunny field,
And sat on the running board of an old Model A.
I awoke happy, for I had dreamt of my wife,
And the loneliness hiding in grass and weeds
That lies near a man over thirty, and suddenly enters.*

*When Joe Sjolie grew tired he sold his farm,
Even his bachelor rocker, and did not come back.
He left his dog behind in the cob shed.
The dog refused to take food from strangers.*

*I drove out to that farm when I awoke;
Alone on a hill, sheltered by trees.
The matted grass lay around the house.
When I climbed the porch, the door was open.
Inside were old abandoned books,
And instructions to Norwegian immigrants.*

Robert Bly

THE LOVE SONG OF J. ALFRED PRUFROCK

I

Let us go then, you and I,
When the evening is spread out against the sky
Like a patient etherised upon a table;
Let us go, through certain half-deserted streets,
The muttering retreats
Of restless nights in one-night cheap hotels
And sawdust restaurants with oyster-shells:
Streets that follow like a tedious argument
Of insidious intent
To lead you to an overwhelming question . . .
Oh, do not ask, "What is it?"
Let us go and make our visit.

In the room the women come and go
Talking of Michelangelo.

The yellow fog that rubs its back upon the window-
panes,
The yellow smoke that rubs its muzzle on the window-
panes
Licked its tongue into the corners of the evening,
Lingered upon the pools that stand in drains,
Let fall upon its back the soot that falls from chimneys,
Slipped by the terrace, made a sudden leap,
And seeing that it was a soft October night,
Curled once about the house, and fell asleep.

And indeed there will be time
For the yellow smoke that slides along the street
Rubbing its back upon the window-panes;
There will be time, there will be time
To prepare a face to meet the faces that you meet:
There will be time to murder and create,
And time for all the works and days of hands
That lift and drop a question on your plate;
Time for you and time for me,
And time yet for a hundred indecisions,
And for a hundred visions and revisions,
Before the taking of toast and tea.

In the room the women come and go
Talking of Michelangelo.

II

And indeed there will be time
 To wonder "Do I dare?" and "Do I dare?"
 Time to turn back and descend the stair,
 With a bald spot in the middle of my hair—
 (They will say: "How his hair is growing thin!")
 My morning coat, my collar mounting firmly to the chin,
 My necktie rich and modest, but asserted by a simple pin—
 (They will say: "But how his arms and legs are thin!")
 Do I dare
 Disturb the universe?

In a minute there is time
 For decisions and revisions which a minute will reverse.

For I have known them all already, known them all—
 Have known the evenings, mornings, afternoons,
 I have measured out my life with coffee spoons;
 I know the voices dying with a dying fall
 Beneath the music from a farther room.
 So how should I presume?

And I have known the eyes already, known them all—
 The eyes that fix you in a formulated phrase,
 And when I am formulated, sprawling on a pin,
 When I am pinned and wriggling on the wall,
 Then how should I begin
 To spit out all the butt-ends of my days and ways?
 And how should I presume?

And I have known the arms already, known them all—
 Arms that are braceleted and white and bare
 (But in the lamplight, downed with light brown hair!)
 Is it perfume from a dress
 That makes me so digress?
 Arms that lie along a table, or wrap about a shawl.
 And should I then presume?
 And how should I begin?

III

*Shall I say, I have gone at dusk through narrow streets
And watched the smoke that rises from the pipes
Of lonely men in shirt-sleeves, leaning out of windows? . . .*

*I should have been a pair of ragged claws
Scuttling across the floors of silent seas.*

*And the afternoon, the evening, sleeps so peacefully!
Smoothed by long fingers,
Asleep . . . tired . . . or it malingers,
Stretched on the floor, here beside you and me.
Should I, after tea and cakes and ices,
Have the strength to force the moment to its crisis?
But though I have wept and fasted, wept and prayed,
Though I have seen my head (grown slightly bald)
 brought in upon a platter,
I am no prophet—and here's no great matter:
I have seen the moment of my greatness flicker,
And I have seen the eternal Footman hold my coat, and snicker,
And in short, I was afraid.*

*And would it have been worth it, after all,
After the cups, the marmalade, the tea,
Among the porcelain, among some talk of you and me,
Would it have been worth while,
To have bitten off the matter with a smile,
To have squeezed the universe into a ball
To roll it toward some overwhelming question,
To say: "I am Lazarus, come from the dead,
Come back to tell you all, I shall tell you all"—
If one, settling a pillow by her head,
 Should say: "That is not what I meant at all.
 That is not it, at all."*

*And would it have been worth it, after all,
Would it have been worth while,
After the sunsets and the dooryards and the sprinkled streets,
After the novels, after the teacups, after the skirts that trail along the floor—
And this, and so much more?—
It is impossible to say just what I mean!
But as if a magic lantern threw the nerves in patterns
 on a screen:
Would it have been worth while
If one, settling a pillow or throwing off a shawl,
And turning toward the window, should say:
 "That is not it at all,
 That is not what I meant at all."*

IV

No! I am not Prince Hamlet, nor was meant to be;
 Am an attendant lord, one that will do
 To swell a progress, start a scene or two,
 Advise the prince; no doubt, an easy tool,
 Deferential, glad to be of use,
 Politic, cautious, and meticulous;
 Full of high sentence, but a bit obtuse;
 At times, indeed, almost ridiculous—
 Almost, at times, the Fool.

I grow old . . . I grow old . . .
 I shall wear the bottoms of my trousers rolled.
 Shall I part my hair behind? Do I dare to eat a peach?
 I shall wear white flannel trousers, and walk upon the beach.
 I have heard the mermaids singing, each to each.
 I do not think that they will sing to me.

I have seen them riding seaward on the waves
 Combing the white hair of the waves blown back
 When the wind blows the water white and black.
 We have lingered in the chambers of the sea
 By sea-girls wreathed with seaweed red and brown
 Till human voices wake us, and we drown.

T. S. Eliot

THE BOOK OF LIES

I'd like to have a word with you. Could we be alone for a minute? I have been lying until now. Do you believe

I believe myself? Do you believe yourself when you believe me? Lying is natural. Forgive me. Could we be alone forever? Forgive us all. The word is my enemy. I have never been alone; bribes, betrayals. I am lying even now. Can you believe that? I give you my word.

James Tate

EVERYMAN

*I went to the house of Everyman,
I found his woman there.
I asked her, Where is Everyman?
She said, His home is air.*

*I asked her, then, What is he like?
She said, No woman knows.
He moaned a little as he crept
beneath my linen clothes.*

*He lay upon me as a bird,
she said with half disdain.
Why, in the hurry of his wings
he scarcely spoke my name!*

*And when he left you, did you grieve?
Oh, no, I scarcely knew . . .
She rose, and to the window moved,
indolent and huge . . .*

*Then all at once her body broke in two parts, like a stone,
and as the savage bird escaped,
It's Everyman, she moaned.*

Tennessee Williams

IN CALIFORNIA

*Here I am, troubling the dream coast
With my New York face,
Bearing among the realtors
And tennis-players my dark preoccupation.*

*There once was an epical clatter—
Voices and banjos, Tennessee, Ohio,
Rising like incense in the sight of heaven.
Today, there is an angel in the gate.*

*Lie back, Walt Whitman, there,
On the fabulous raft with the King and the Duke!
For the white row of the Marina Faces the Rock. Turn round the wagons here.*

*Lie back! We cannot bear
The stars any more, those infinite spaces.
Let the realtors divide the mountain,
For they have already subdivided the valley.*

*Rectangular city blocks astonished Hertodotus in Babylon,
Cortez in Tenochtitlan,
And here's the same old city-planner, death.*

*We cannot turn or stay.
For though we sleep, and let the reins fall slack,
The great cloud-wagons move
Outward still, dreaming of a Pacific.*

i found a new life in the withdrawal from all things not like my image

*when i was a teen-ager i usta sit on front steps conversing the gym teachers son with embryonic eyes
about the essential essence of the universe (and other bullshit stuff)
recognizing the basic powerlessness of me*

*but then i went to college where i learned that just because everything i was was unreal
i could be real and not just real through withdrawal into emotional crosshairs or colored bourgeoisie intellectual pretensions
but from involvement with things approaching reality
i could possibly have a life*

so catatonic emotions and time wasting sex games were replaced with functioning commitments to logic and necessity and the gray area was slowly darkened into a black thing

*for awhile progress was being made along with a certain degree of happiness cause i wrote a book and found a love and organized a theatre and even gave some lectures on Black history
and began to believe all good people could get together and win without bloodshed then hammarskjold was killed and lumumba was killed and diem was killed
and kennedy was killed
and malcolm was killed
and evers was killed
and schwerner, chaney and goodman were killed and liuzzo was killed and stokely fled the country
and le roi was arrested and pollard, thompson and cooper were killed and king was killed
and kennedy was killed
and i sometimes wonder why i didn't become a debutante sitting on porches, going to church all the time, wondering is my eye make-up on straight or a withdrawn discoursing on the stars and moon instead of a for real Black person who must now feel and inflict pain*

THE SUMMER BELVEDERE

II

I asked my kindest friend to guard my sleep.

*I said to him, Give me the motionless thicket of summer,
the velvety cul-de-sac, and quiet the drummer.*

*I said to him, Brush my forehead with a feather,
not with an eagle's feather, nor with a sparrow's,
but with the shadowy feather of an owl.*

*I said to him, Come to me dressed in a cloak and a cowl,
and bearing a candle whose flame is very still.*

Our belvedere looks over a brambly hill.

*I said to him, Give me the cool white kernel of summer,
the windless terminal of it, and calm the drummer!*

*I said to him, Tell the drummer
the rebels have crossed the river and no one is here
but John with the broken drumstick and half-wit Peg who shot spitballs at the moon from the belvedere.*

*Tell the feverish drummer no man is here.
"But what if he doesn't believe me?"*

*Give him proof!
For there is no lie that contains no part of truth.*

*And then, with the sort of courage that comes with fever,
the body becoming sticks that blossom with flame,
the flame for a while obscuring what it consumes,
I twisted and craned to peer in the loftier room—*

I saw the visitor there, and him I knew as my waiting ghost.

The belvedere was blue.

Tennessee Williams

THESE HEROICS

If I had a shining head
 and people turned to stare at me
 in the streetcars;
 and I could stretch my body
 through bright water
 and keep abreast of fish and water snakes;
 if I could ruin my feathers
 in flight before the sun;
 do you think that I would remain in this room,
 reciting poems to you,
 and making outrageous dreams
 with the smallest movements of your mouth?

Leonard Cohen

UNCLE

*Homer was a ventriloquist;
so drunk, one day he projected his voice
so far it just*

*kept going and going (still is).
Joe Ray insisted
Homer was afraid of work, but he's* had 130 jobs or more just recently, he didn't think in terms of careers.

The family never cared for Homer even after

*he ginmed himself into a wall
and died balling
with a deaf-mute in an empty Kansas City hall.*

*Joe Ray insisted
Homer would have made a fine dentist had he kept his mouth shut; that is,*

*had he lived. Still is heard about the house
jiggling glasses,*

his devoted astral voice coming back.

THE GUILD

Ever since its inception two years ago, the Guild has never had any problem in determining its "direction." We feel there's just no use in trying to overcome the force of gravity. Contrary to campus-wide heresay, however, the Guild does not happen to be dead. We continue to thrive, living dangerously from day to day in the face of student court appearances, meetings with the Dean, 0-8 football seasons, decimation of the ranks, hippie-type morals, intoxication of all varieties, lethargy, languor, and over-all apathy. The torpid troop may even survive another year of making it as loose as possible without having it fall apart. (Dave)

We knew it was going to be a big year when we finally beheld the long-awaited sign hanging in front of the house; nice work professor. Now you can use your wood-working skills to repair your door. Doc F., slightly less outrageous than Murphy, came down this year with the old family wagon. "Sure, you can borrow my car to go to U-Totem - if you put gas in it." Speaking of motors, Doc, one was all primed and ready to hum but you bolted. You just can not wait for these things on a silver platter. Plagued by colossal rip-offs left and right, Horny lumbered through the year in fine form. We'll award him with a round-trip ticket to Canada and a fun-filled evening of wholesome entertainment at the Club Juana. Loner used his pecuniary wizardry to keep the Guild on a sound financial basis. "Scoring heavily" this year, Marty ran the gamut from Ranchers to telephone operators; in between came Dobbers, Steak and Brewers, and a few vain attempts with Horny at the Juana. We hear that the Loner is also working with the State of New York to establish an OTB hot-line in Orlando. Adams led us unrelentingly this year, never throwing in the towel when the chips were down. In fact, as this volume goes to press, the incumbent is the overwhelming favorite for an unprecedented two-year stint at the helm. Zeising managed to clinch the "dead beat" award for the year; our gigolo-in-residence broke the all-time record for sitting in a state of suspended animation. Look for Rick in Life magazine's next spread on "Camping in America." Neo continues to suffer from the dreaded and incurable psychopathological condition known as Dylanomania. Maybe a few hours of therapy with Bob himself would help Neo to get well. Perhaps our budding young medico will even find a cure for the ailment as he continues his scientific studies. At any rate, he gets a well-deserved Guildo "pat-on-the-back." Morocco rolled out of his big double bed every morning only to find a whole day with nothing to do but string rackets and get henpecked. Hang in there Mike - we love you. Peter G. Phillips is proud to announce that he has been designated the official travel representative in the States for the Bimini Chamber of Commerce. Peter had to go as far away as South America for an entire term to get a rest from the psyche department here at school. Peter also gets a friendly Guildo "pat-on-the-back." Joe's clandestine plan for a single in the tower after Peter split really caused quite a hassle. This frustrated guitarist will probably only find true happiness in his own recording studio producing quintuple - tracked cuts with himself on all instruments. And so dearly beloved we come upon Charles Perlo whose sense of far-out humor is matched only by his knowledge of everything going on around him. This has so outraged some of Chuck's apathetic protégés that they sometimes are forced to wham him around a little but never to the extent of damage to the little fellow. Charlie Brown couldn't hack the academic load at Maryland so he decided to return to Rollins this year. Charlie brings back with him a strong bent for Guild tradition and a genuine desire to return the house to its once prestigious image on campus. Ned and his girl friend have been chosen for

Speedo was our second member in recent years to have a bout with mono. He'll spend the rest of his life making up the work he missed in organic chemistry. At last we come to Dave, the dauntless leader of the Black-out Platoon. At this printing Dave is in Colorado, and we really have lost all hope of ever bringing him down from the ionosphere. Doc C. gets our special thanks for continually standing by us when the going got tough. CHI OMEGA

It was a great year for the Chi O's. The pledges are quickly picking up the Chi O way of life, which is only exceeded by the actives.

Marcia ran the house with an iron hand, big stick, and a blindfold, and Wally dropped by to see Dale. Leslie went Phi Mu and rumor has it that Mandy has taken up residence in the Phi Delt house. Diane joined the basketball team, Claudia's going to be a nun while Diana took a trip for five months. Amy brought the boys and girls together. Do Cindy and Deedee really room together? Lana finally mastered the combination and Cathy went straight. Will Alice's roommate please stand up? Pam will have a car next year and come Saturday morning Karen will go away with her frog friend. . . . Joy and Patsy . . . Who did you say Andrea was dating? Wendy's got a boyfriend! Our special thanks to Susie and Fluffy. We're still looking for Jamie and We're sending Deedee a bid. And to our pledges-Good Luck! Thus we feel it appropriate to dedicate the following songs:

London - Our No. 1 Lendo. You love National, but why are we always in trouble?
Hopkins - From Sigma Nu Sweetheart to the Mystic Maiden Jan gave her "Lee-way"
Maris - Maris is minding the flock with the Sheppard.
Lafferty - How do you like 'em, tall and thin?
Weenie - Have your teeth moved yet?
Shipley - Outwitting all the boys in Crummer?
Penny - The future Mrs. Berry.
Marguerite - Sandwich Man is here!
Pam Paul - If she didn't have Carter's little pills she'd "Dye!"
Bobby Clements - Who needs beer for cheer when Mat is near.
N. Wentsel - toys in her head! Will that be spaghetti or lasagna?
Claudia Wray - Always doing our community service.
Pooh - Who said parting is such sweet sorrow.
Lyle - Kentucky woman between Lisa and Blondie, they'll run Pete's dry!
Port - Watch those trips to Jacksonville!
Can we run through that tap dance routine once more?
Lin Terry - Delicious
Anderson (D.) - The honorary Sig-Ep social chairman, beach parties anyone?
B. Postell - Who else would be on the cover of our telephone directory but Miss Rollins?
C. Nuttle - Will anyone ever know where her heart really lies?
B. Fritz - Grant me my wish; makin' tracks for South Carolina.
A. Shepard - Southern "bell," caught your eye? Watch out who you're seen with, but there's always Steak and Brew.
S. Anness - Christmas carols anyone? No doubt you'll find Sally on the dinky dock.
A. Daniels - Jack The Ripper
J. Fowler - Doritos and dip? There's nothing like a Winter Term at Rollins! Did I hear a chicken?
S. Tinsley - Entering the Indianapolis 500 next year?
Merideth - Efficiency is her best policy.
Caroline Smith - Some day those sailboats in the picture will turn to life.
N. Whitney - The next candlelight, Nancy and her piano.
D. Eames - Day is "nye."
Pledge Class -
Great skit! Keep up the good work.

LAMBDA

The Lambda Class of 72 remained intact with two notable exceptions. Berry went KA to pursue his "sophisticated" desires, but is he really there? Tuke returned as a KA - no loss.

As for the hard core . . . Nocturnal Man stalked the hallways at odd hours, gave him a chance to be with his friends . . . our president, The Hawk, set a good example early in the year with his dare-devil driving techniques - Hic! Ashley moved to the third floor but seemed to be even higher . . . Bungalow Billy was in love but the Phi Delts interrupted . . . Bungs never gave her what she needed - and wanted . . . Metcalfe and Troxel got married - too bad; that's the price you have to pay to get it all the time . . . Whitmore's "horns" got slaughtered but pleasure from Crummer made up for the loss . . . Bert's thing was in North Carolina, but as always he found time to lead a couple of guppies on . . . Kinney's popularity with the women reached new heights, but some followed anyway . . . Tuell really likes his white shoes, but lately he's been getting into green too . . . Ford might have sunk a lot of holes in one on the golf course, but he boggied out with another kind. Slagle is still trying to sneak into other things behind Weenie's back . . . Xenakis has his girl down here now - maybe that's why he bought a new car with a bigger back seat . . . "Rod" McComb remained the most obnoxious person around . . . Randall has moved from cloud 9 to 99 . . . Nye has taken the "Rip-Off" laurels for the year and Newman has moved into the Back Door for the over thirty female set; he needs the experience . . . Lavine has the honor of caring enough to rush for the frat; what kind of job he did is subject to argument . . . Taylor has a new lease of life . . . and Andy? - a calloused right hand.

And Murph is in his rightful place - the closet.

PHI DELTA THETA

There is much talk of getting jobs for the summer. Whether or not they're hired is still in question, but here are the Flaming Phis' preferences: Klug is hoping to organize the 4th Reich while Sterman will undoubtedly be hassled at summer camp . . . Pritchett is going to provide all the canned laughter for NBC's new season comedies. Shields is buying into a computer dating service, but the only drawback is that the only date he'll get will be with the computer . . . Jerry is replacing Elmer Fudd — b-de-bi-de bi-duhhh, That's all Folks . . . Morris is to be a model in New York specializing in men's and women's underwear . . . Ely, while being chairman of Gerber Baby Foods, shall also replace the bald eagle as the National emblem . . . Reddy, of course, will be skipping a tuna boat . . . Durrell, along with his filing cabinets, postage meter, and telephone amplifier, will be executive white glove secretary to Bill Sipp Enterprises . . . Yurchenco will be understudy to Frank Rizzo, yuh! . . . Huffard is going to launch a crusade to get youth off of drugs and on to garlic . . . Crosby, ah-ah-ah-ah-will be pursuing a desire to be an expert in the philosophy of environmental engineering - what? . . . Vastyan, a minor in soccer, is working on a masters in admissions . . . McFall, the noted philanthropist, is donating the prize money for the Bev Buckley Invitational . . . Kling is finishing up his double major in English and History, History and Math, Physics and Russian, Basketball and tic-tac-toe, or whatever you've heard of lately . . . Bethea? . . . Big Diego is getting up a new band, Dezi Arnaz and the Spanish flies . . . Allen will be manufacturing Mayo-naise.

The Seniors would like to make the following recommendations for the pledge class to bear in mind:

- it's size, not quality.
- a bird in the hand is worth two on the 3rd floor.
- ask not what your country can do for you, but how you can get out of the draft.
- Don't try for our sweetheart, it's a lost cause.
- When in doubt, use this line: "Hey little girl, want some candy or nylons?"
- It's not how long you make it, but how you make it long.

We also would like, as our gift to the fraternity, to promise upon our graduation (those of us who do graduate) not to come back next fall and hang around and sponge.

As for the seniors . . .

The Jimmy Olsen Committee on Mediocre Journalism awards Gil Klein the distinguished Golden Helmet for his outstanding performance with the sorority system as we know it today. See you next year Chuck, oh, by the way, alcoholism is treatable. Who can forget that week-end the old girl friend dropped by to visit? If you can't remember, we're sure the neighbors can. The football team sends Mark McGuire best wishes on making it in the pros-look out Plunkett. You told Patty what? Hope you do real good at Valencia Law School. Sorry Diego, spics and wops don't mix. With due regard to your term as president, the Penn Central should be able to offer you an executive position. As for your two-bit, two-timing Panamanian buddy-may he be committed to a life term as chairman of the BOD. See you both at the Mini-Adult. Yes Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alex Prezioso is on Student Court. Brooklyn, unless you plan to take up residence on the East Side, you'd better learn to speak the language - English that is. But don't worry, we ain't pledged. One can easily be led to believe that Pete Derby is the sum total of all the deranged characters he has played in his four years at Rollins. And the final jeopardy answer is . . .

SIGMA NU

An incredible year! The eviction party, the beanery bust, the hose job on the second floor, Pease's promise, Critchfield's critique, and who can forget the City of Winter Park vs. the Orlando Seven?

The Seniors are leaving, but look what they leave behind . . .

"E," (Bev-E) found a buckle around his pants . . . Stinky Stinson caught crabs while dipping in the Oshin . . . Gratten was a great commander, but where does it say the only "claps" he got were south of the border? . . . Winchester got high on Wendy but even higher on Mary Jane . . . Trocchi was always horny but the only bearded clam he got was at the Red Lobster . . . Coogan never did adapt to the third floor, only to the floor of the IFC . . . Welsh scored more goals when promised Candy after the game . . . Gale was All-State in Florida and All-American in Zolnier . . . Ross road the Benjamin cycle twenty-five times before Christmas . . . Ron says he's got it made with a piece of Joda's rock . . . Selton got married (WOW!) . . . Robbie was "Amy'ed with his Phillips Head Screwdriver" . . . Rix's separation of his shoulder and Lorie put a Kriesel in his Doetsch . . . Johnson "Lyled" away his hours on the waterbed . . . Magnet Moore got put out of business by a drill press . . . Hawk hovered consistently at about 8,000 ft. over Rollins while Fish Bowled his way into Gordie's heart and Happel tickled his way to Andy's fancy . . . Miller messed his Mustang and "Kest" his sex aside . . . "Cool" KO'd a freshman broad, and made many a Pit stop with his newly-fashioned, imported hooter . . . Flaherty and Donna played with an erector set - Mark's . . . Jex gave the River Rat a Favor, but that still wouldn't make the Berry rabbit talk . . . B. J. Strathern was "Baled" out by the "Golden Felice" . . . Merullo's favorite eat is still Shepard's pie . . . Anderson "spent" Winter Term tee-peed with the "Chappaqua Squaw" . . . Coombs and Clift on rye - 85 cents . . . Tonka Fuini toyed with Nasty Norma . . . D. B. - douche is his bag . . . ATT or American Telephone Tully . . . Whipple, at what age were you dropped on your head? . . .

"Sigma Nu pledges challenge anybody," says Jack Goetz (if he ever stops talking about Marjan), Melvin Go-hard, Tom Gauntlett and Lazy Phil. This year's special citation goes to the Sigma Nu football team who not only lost to KA and X-Club, but also forfeited to TKE!

Last, but not least, Wild B. showed his Wild P. to Leslie T.! And Chumley reached the peak of his social career with the help of a few grubby friends. Sorry M., but we're too "wet" behind the ears to think of anything new at this late hour.

PHI MU

Phi Mu tapped the 71-72 year with the motto: A keg in the tub is worth two in the grove. The first floor suite became the place to go, where the liquor flowed and sweet sin followed. Herman and Ardnas still hold a place in our hearts. Mac and Don's Rainbow Room was visited and re-visited. And famous last words became the new Phi Mu Creed. Bistie baby rang her chimes to the tune of "Rainy Day Woman" . . . Cotton joined the fire department and found out when she couldn't wear her pledge pin . . . Roeder intends to become a Sig Ep sweetheart or a field secretary, which ever comes first . . . Nicholson is still wondering what to put in an empty box . . . Sherry, our motorcycle queen, rode off behind the Beard on a mini-bike . . . President Pamela Pureheart investigated the wisdoms of Pease, Lyons and other Phi Mu greats - she still looks like a poodle . . . Biddle kept on truckin' and quit eating at Joe's . . . Lynn spent her time with her Raggedy Andy doll, while Abbie, still locked out of her room, became the recreation director for visiting teams . . . Morison helped us all out by delivering the evening papers . . . and the mailman delivered a ring to Val . . . Carr learned to cook but then ate out . . . Smith taught us a lesson by getting a choice piece of meat at Steak & Ale . . . eat, eat, eat - doesn't anyone study anymore? . . . Joyce left for London - she's got the right idea . . . Read returned to the Zoo . . . Barrett spent Winter Term in air-conditioned Martinique - and decided not to Chuck her guy . . . Chris kept it up with the Swig Eps . . . Chandler is still eavesdropping at Betsy's door - did you learn anything, Chandler? . . . as soon as Ketcham grows up, she'll learn how to wash her own dishes . . . Ping and Pong enlightened us with their gross jokes at Beans - you eat out of those mouths too? . . . B. J. was our monkey woman . . . Bain used her mouth to its best advantage . . . Moffett is trying to get braces off her teeth . . . Gronsdahl wore her Caterpillar shirt - you're a what loader? . . . Hackett discovered the difference between basketballs and soccer balls . . . Geiger got a pin . . . Swesnik tap-danced her way to fame . . . we finally found Ginny, but Beug, Anderson, White and Duncan are still missing . . . we were blessed with sixteen pledges - they fit in so well at the Zoo . . . and we told everything to our "mommy."

SIGMA PHI

EPSILON

This year Pfingstag, Wattles, and Stull were unanimously elected quiet hour proctors. Due to their conscientious efforts the intake of alcohol has decreased significantly. Goode made his debut on television after a hair-raising performance in his BMW. It was confirmed that Crowe not only is a Rollins student, but a Sig Ep. Landers and Stanton established a Brazilian Consulate and a new motorcycle club . . . R-Neck. Maddison is still undisputed as the only true divinity. Rumor has it that he went to Heaven for Winter Term. Donohue became national chairman of the anti-drug crusade and roomed with the local army recruiter, Stan Miller. Heathcote found through Kroening that the grass is greener elsewhere. Best goes unchallenged as the ladies' man, while Desch seems to be a lady's man. Frank Ritti, after long stays in the Chapel, will be using it this Spring. The Rack Monster replaced the Phantom Dumper, and Jay Robertson studied tree farming (when the Monster wasn't around.) Wattles continued to drink Schmidt's - for Christmas he received 1000 shares of Pepto - Bismol. Walter took time from his social circuit to make a debut with Midi (No, Walter, North Carolina is not bigger than Texas). After using his charm and grace, Whitely "aired" himself without an equal. Thompson put out one fire and started another local one. Swartz was elected Chairman of the Board of Star-Kist (Sorry, Charlie). Matt and Bobbie were voted the most likely to never stop dating, and Matt made history in Speech class (How are your knees?). Madonick, despite rumor, did not lose another election. Hochstetter is studying karate and female anatomy. Beach, after much thought, has decided to work for Jiffy Pop while Tim Boyle with new wheels is preparing for the Derby. Suor won an award for his vocal participation in "You're so huge!" Novak will be pulling teeth in Dental School while Dowd will doubtless continue to blow doors off. Leon has become an Early American Freak interior decorator - Heil, Hitler?! Bronos made it back from Bogota and is now modeling sauna belts. Kiernan started a bicycle parking lot in the living room while Tong stopped drinking long enough to get married in L.A. Khouri, following suit with Ritti and Tong, should be hitched up by the summer. Shep Dweck had to be Clubbed first, but he finally came our way.

The Brotherhood again increased substantially with the absorption of the Pledge Class, initiated according to Law.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Although far from the Army, Tanker got colared by an MP. Mange lapsed from his usual form when he lost to a certain building inspector in a battle of Witts. A new record for duration of pledgeship was set by Juma. Zo, in his true GOM tradition, pressed on despite any obstacles. My Gal Beat Her Son introduced chess and his own brand of humor to the living room. Despite his image, Spencer got a membership to the Mini-Adult. Dwight published his second book, "More Stories from Smaft." Ata keeps strumming and humming and boy can he juggle those balls. La Crotch got caught in barbed wire. A dell made the Worm squirm and J Sleaze is still mediating the return of his Italian masterpiece. The Butts holds his brew, except for straight Sherry. Did the Beauds break the bubbles bubble? Three chairs for Rocky Griggiano. Brick walls were no obstacle for the Human Fly. Fredlatio found temporary happiness witha hunk of Clay. Should we address you as "your honor" from now on, Slodo? Don't worry Gar, everybody has to eat crow once in a while. From his new appearance, Malis must have found a fountain of youth at Dizzy World. Barnhole played his usual cut man during soccer season, while Cassius beat his opponents into submission. Would somebody give the Pit a straight-jacket for his birthday? The cold weather proved beneficial as Merce lost his voice. The Can-Man's constant supervision kept the frat house from crumbling. And Press still promises to lead the soccer team in goals.

By the way, who is Connie Laringo?

X-CLUB

As another year closes, those old senior Clubbers will drift away leaving Club tradition to take its course. This year the Club took on a more serious and industrious complexion than ever before. As we displayed a facade of seemingly diligent and righteous behavior, student affairs smiled at the Club while the Club laughed at student affairs.

To be serious for a moment, the Club showed more unity and ability to help each other during football games and practices, in rush and many other phases of their perverted lives. While our team controlled the ball on the field, our same team, with jocks off, better known as the eight marked men, captured the hearts of many an unsuspecting hog as they displayed balls of another sort.

Our home this year was the FBI which sported that famous school teacher Eve among other rednecks. With the return of many alumni to the area, the Club's fervor for good times and gross outs flourished. We upset those graduates in our annual football game for the first time ever.

We think it is only fitting that the actives receive special recognition for their achievements.

Our president Bert got Barbed by a freshman woman while Mike Strickland made his move from little Annie Fannie to flat Suzie Q. . . a new book The Acting of a Pumpkinhead added two chapters in the life of Jimmy Jack-o-Latern Wegner: 1) How to date other people, 2) Obesity and the art of loving . . . JJ's bedroom action was halted for three months . . . John Lowman, in his drive to become super-straight, could only learn to toss his cookies quicker . . . Smitty tried to make Carol full - while her virginity and good judgement said no . . . Bert Banta is corrupting the winos in South America this Spring . . . Parnelli Barnes has started his own speedway on 436 . . . D-Man and Ebner discovered Hog row and brought the sensuous six egging at our door . . . Tom Tarkey became sharper at Harper's by learning how to un-stop the Bathroom Bowl . . . Carlee and Morrison proved to have the best hands in the IFL, but Morrison always scored . . . Andy Williams delighted many a young freshman with his adidas and red sports car . . . we can never forget nor remember Big Mac who finally got to live in the Club so he wouldn't get lost . . . Tim Brown proved to be the only good actor in the Club . . . the pledges who are too stupid to achieve anything may be able to be recognized next year. However, they will long remember LymAnn.

Our thanks to Truck, Betty, and Ralph and Jeopardy for our mid-day entertainment . . .

I saw a man pursuing the horizon;
round and round they sped.
I was disturbed at this;
I accosted the man.
"It is futile," I said,
"You can never . . ."

"You lie," he cried,
and ran on.

I've been looking for chairs
made by a craftsman
for this civilization where I'm heartbroken. They should resemble grasshoppers ready to fly in a whirr.
They could have wings
made of stiff paper,
and rings turned
and hard as talons.
Such chairs can be set afire
at future meetings.
The amount of wire in them
would be hidden,
as in a suburb. And when their varnish cracks,
the birds flying out of the grain
can be sparrows.

Though such a chair set in a meadow
for the plans of spiders,
would bleach, and the legs rot,
anyone considering it would know we had long fights
and still amid the hate conceived of rest.
He'd know we angled
in something like a forest,
and wore ourselves out.
He'd know we were afraid
and left no love.
It would be a chair, a small harbor waiting in an ocean of air.

FIREBUGS	Peter Derby
BIRTHDAY PARTY	Dianne Lewis
LITTLE MURDERS.....	Jane Roeder
STORY TIME.....	Mary Ann Chance
SCUBA DUBA	Janis Hirsch
STOP THE WORLD	Nancy Lawson

You know what? I've never lost a tooth. Not since the day I was born. Nothing's changed. (He gets up.) That's why I've reached my position, McCann. Because I've always been as fit as a fiddle. All my life I've said the same. Play up, play up, and play the game. Honour thy father and thy mother. All along the line. Follow the line, the line, McCann, and you can't go wrong. What do you think, I'm a self-made man? No! I sat where I was told to sit. I kept my eye on the ball. School? Don't talk to me about school. Top in all subjects. And for why? Because I'm telling you, I'm telling you, follow my line? Follow my mental? Learn by heart. Never write down a thing. And don't go too near the water. And you'll find . . . that what I say is true. Because I believe that the world . . . (Vacant.) . . . Because I believe that the world . . . (Desperate.) . . . BECAUSE I BELIEVE THAT THE WORLD . . . (Lost.) . . .

THE BIRTHDAY PARTY by Harold Pinter

BIG SUR RIVER

So you pack up
and take it with you,
October's dust,
the water going over
its brown body.
So today
the Rams are playing Green Bay
at the Coliseum.

Trying to sleep
you hear the water
just go by. Rocks
pillowed in roots of trees
seem out of air.
You're through,
your mind's everywhere,

your arms are working
loose from your body.
A tree once forded the river here
and turned gray,
nothing for you to care about,
though you stand still half asleep, the river
gleaming with windows
like a train,
and you reach for Gabriel's
long high pass from the city.

Benjamin Saltman

*WE REAL COOL
The Pool Players*

We real cool. We Left school. We

Lurk late. We Strike straight. We

Sing sin. We Think gin. We

Jazz June. We Die soon.

Gwendolyn Brooks

WIND SONG

Long ago I learned how to sleep,
 In an old apple orchard where the wind swept by counting its money and throwing it away,
 In a wind-gaunt orchard where the limbs forked out and listened or never listened at all,
 In a passel of trees where the branches trapped the wind into whistling, "Who, who are you?"
 I slept with my head in an elbow on a summer afternoon and there I took a sleep lesson.
 There I went away saying: I know why they sleep, I know how they trap the tricky winds.
 Long ago I learned how to listen to the singing wind and how to forget and how to hear the deep whine,
 Slapping and lapsing under the day blue and the night stars:
 Who, who are you?

Who can ever forget listening to the wind go by counting its money
 and throwing it away?

Carl Sandburg

SUPERMAN

*I drive my car to supermarket,
The way I take is superhigh,
A superlot is where I park it,
And Super Suds are what I buy.*

*Supersalesmen sell me tonic-Super-Tone-O, for Relief.
The planes I ride are supersonic.
In trains, I like the Super Chief.*

*Supercilious men and women
Call me superficial . . . me,
Who so superbly learned to swim in Supercolossality.*

*Superphosphate-fed foods feed me;
Superservice keeps me new.
Who would dare to supersede me,
Super-super-superwho?*

John Updike

THE LOSS OF THE FUTURE

We are a remnant people in a remnant country. We have used up the possibilities inherent in the youth of our nation: the new start in a new place with new vision and new hope. We have gone far toward using up our topsoils and our forests and many of our other natural resources. We have come, or we are coming fast, to the end of what we were given. The good possibilities that may lie ahead are only those that we will make ourselves, by a wiser and more generous and more exacting use of what we have left.

Our history is not only the fund of inspiring events that in our obsessive self-congratulation we have made it out to be—it is also the record of a tragic and shameful wasting of the land and of human possibility.

Wendell Berry

SADIE AND MAUD

*Maud went to college.
Sadie stayed at home.
Sadie scraped life
With a fine-tooth comb.*

*She didn't leave a tangle in.
Her comb found every strand.
Sadie was one of the livingest chits
In all the land.*

*Sadie bore two babies
Under her maiden name.
Maud and Ma and Papa
Nearly died of shame.*

*When Sadie said her last so-long
Her girls struck out from home.
(Sadie had left as heritage
Her fine-tooth comb.)*

*Maud, who went to college,
Is a thin brown mouse.
She is living all alone
In this old house.*

STRAWBERRY FIELDS FOREVER

living is easy with eyes closed misunderstanding all you see it's getting hard to be someone
but it all works out
it doesn't matter much to me

no one I think is in my tree I mean
it must be high or low
that is you can't you know
tune in but it's alright
that as I think it's not too bad

always know sometimes think it's me but you know I know and
it's a dream
I think I know of thee
ah yes
but it's all wrong
that as I think I disagree

let me
take you down 'cause
I'm going to strawberry fields
nothing is real and nothing to get hung about
strawberry fields forever

I KNOW A MAN

As I sd to my friend, because I am always talking, . . . John, I sd, which was not his name, the darkness

surrounds us, what can we against it, or else, shall we &

why not, buy a goddamn big car,

drive, he sd, for christ's sake, look out where yr going.

Robert Creeley

THE LISTENERS

"Is there anybody there?" said the Traveler,
Knocking on the moonlit door;
And his horse in the silence champ'd the grasses
Of the forest's ferny floor.
And a bird flew up out of the turret,
Above the Traveler's head:
And he smote upon the door again a second time;
"Is there anybody there?" he said.
But no one descended to the Traveler;
No head from the leaf-fringed sill
Leaned over and looked into his gray eyes,
Where he stood perplexed and still.
But only a host of phantom listeners
That dwelt in the lone house then Stood listening in the quiet of the moonlight
To the voice from that world of men:
Stood thronging the faint moonbeams on the dark stair
That goes down to the empty hall,
Harkening in an air stirred and shaken
By the lonely Traveler's call.
And he felt in his heart their strangeness,
Their stillness answering his cry,
While his horse moved, cropping the dark turf,
'Neath the starred and leafy sky;
For he suddenly smote on the door, even Louder, and lifted his head:
"Tell them I came, and no one answered,
That I kept my word," he said.
Never the least stir made the listeners,
Though every word he spake
Fell echoing through the shadowiness of the still house
From the one man left awake:
Aye, they heard his foot upon the stirrup,
And the sound of iron on stone,
And how the silence surged softly backward,
When the plunging hoofs were gone.
